

(Senior) Legal Counsel f/m/d

Adrenomed is a highly innovative biopharmaceutical company based in the Berlin area. It is specialized in preserving vascular integrity in life-threatening conditions and is committed to precision medicine. The main focus is on sepsis and septic shock.

Currently, we have completed a Phase 2 trial in septic shock and are planning to start a pivotal trial with a subsequent market authorization.

We would never have come this far without our enthusiastic, creative, and highly motivated colleagues who are willing to grow and work in a dynamic environment. Exactly these colleagues are ready to welcome you to the team and support you from day one. We offer flat hierarchies and the possibility to directly contribute to the development of the company while also providing competitive salaries.

To expand our team we look for a (Senior) Legal Counsel f/m/d full or part-time.
